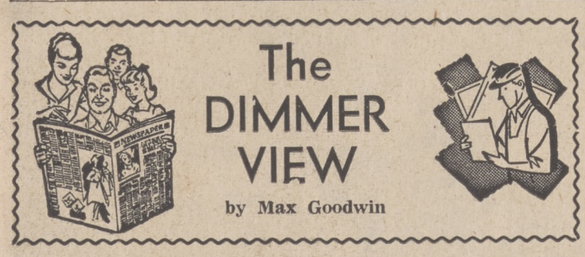
Tax Savings Claimed By Proponents Of Annexation



The DIMMER VIEW

by Max Goodwin

Anxious Reader:

Things may get worse before they get better. An economist in Europe noted that the stock market's Dow-Jones average was near 100 as Nixon's Phase 4 was activated. He said it looks 50-50 that the Dow-Jones will have fallen to 50 when the President's Phase 50 is invoked.

Wire Tapping, Bugging Made Easy

One of our electronics experts has taken some of the mystery out of the mechanics of the Watergate "bugging".

Most people have been led to believe that super-exotic devices were used to listen in on Democratic headquarters and others. But nothing could be further from the truth — if you're an electronics expert.

Our source said he had acquired the material from a Washington writer specializing in electronics research. The writer, Jack Robertson, reported that Watergate conspirators James McCord and Howard Hunt bought most of their electronic gear on the open market easily.

The Watergate bugs were normal small bridging devices installed inside four telephones in the Democratic Party headquarters. The real "'bugging" heart was outside the office itself — small electronic parasitic transmitters attached to the Democratic phone circuits at the telephone company junction box, in the building.

Theses devices send a signal down the line to short out the normal telephone ring but still open up the telephone transmitter even while the hand receiver is cradled. Thus the telephone becomes an open transmitter eavesdropping on all voices within range — while it is just sitting idly on a desk.

The Watergate conspirators also installed a small microphone and miniature milliwatt FM transmitter as part of a smoke detection fire alarm device in the ceiling of the Democratic headquarters. The weak signal from the ceiling bug was then picked up outside and relayed over more powerful transmitters to the conspirators' listening-post at the Howard Johnson hotel opposite the Watergate.

It should be noted that the conspirators could have gotten better information almost as quick if they'd spent a dime for a copy of the WASHINGTON POST.

The bugs found by the FBI at the Watergate had no identification of manufacture — but firms in the field said this is the customary practice. These sources said bugs can be acquired on the black market here or abroad — or indeed bought from individuals who surreptitiously custom wire such devices.

One surveillance firm said it could easily get bugs hand-built from a moonlighting NASA engineer.

Firms in the private surveillance field said any engineer with a normal knowledge of telephone operation could wire up a bug with little problem. A Watergate receiver was a commercial offshoot of a military electronic countermeasure receiver — a regular commercial device for sale to anyone.

The FBI, CIA and Secret Service, and the like usually use bugs that can turn phones into active eavesdropping transmitters with almost indetectable alterations of the phone.

Some sources claim that the latest bugs do not even require the phone itself to be altered — and that all bugging can be accomplished by tapping in along the phone line.

It is noted that wiretapping is different from bugging. Tapping is listening to a phone conversation. Bugging is active surveillance of a room. Company executives are frequently targets of taps on their home phone, one source said. "There's no trick to tap a phone at the junction and then retransmit a short distance away to a listening or recording post."

Counter-surveillance sources felt that persons suspecting phone taps would probably have to use electronic monitoring instruments to detect well-connected monitoring.

A Washington shop will sell anyone a $1,050 unit that can be attached to the phone receiver to detect a tap or bug on the line.

Reputable counter-surveillance firms also warn the public to be careful of electronic sweep services they buy.

"Some sweep firms find a bug on every job they do — but I suspect they plant the bug themselves to justify their bill," explained one security source.

That's just one more reason to have no faith in anyone who practices bugging or tapping.

Less Parking, Motorbike Bans, Express Lanes, Gas Limits Are Environmental Agency Proposals

What happens to your lifestyle if private motor vehicle travel is reduced by 45% in the next 18 months?

This prospect is the result of proposed regulations of the Environmental Protection Agency covering the San Diego County region.

Among the steps to be taken to accomplish the proposal are:

Reduce existing publicly owned parking spaces by 20%, including street parking and parking lots at such places as government buildings, schools, parks and airports.

Banning the use of two-stroke motorcycles during daytime hours.

Limiting the amount of gasoline to be sold in San Diego County to the amount that was sold between July 1, 1972 and June 30, 1973.

Establishing exclusive high-way lane use. This means all eight-lane freeways must have one lane set aside permanently in each direction for bus and car pool use, plus an additional lane for such use during rush hours. For six-lane highways, one lane must be set aside for bus and car pools during peak traffic hours.

The Environmental Protection Agency believes the measures are necessary to achieve the desired quality of air in the San Diego air basin by 1975.

The San Diego County Board of Supervisors, who also act as the Air Pollution Control Board for the region, recognizing that such drastic measures will have a significant impact on the economy and way of life of everyone in the region, is seeking to develope a regional position to present at an August 7 hearing before the EPA in San Diego.

New Boundaries OK'd By Helix Water District

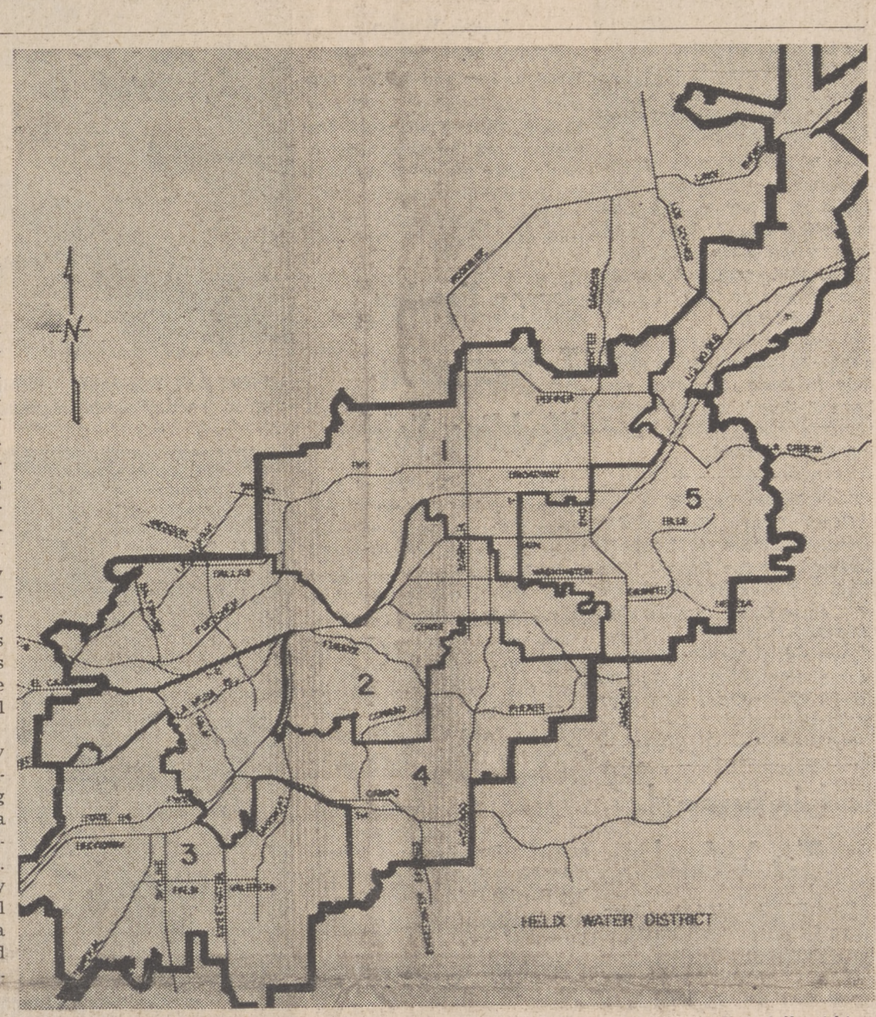
New division boundaries required to equalize both area and population were approved by the Helix Water District Board of Directors last week.

"According to the California Irrigation Districts Act, divisions must be as nearly equal as possible in both size and population," Bob Rundell, Helix vice-president, explained. "The County Registrar of Voters prefers to have boundaries along precinct lines, so drawing a new division map presents a real challenge."

To divide the area exactly would have required each Division to include 5,862 acres and a population of 34,586. As approved, no Division has less than 19.2 percent nor more than 22 percent of the total acreage within the District.

Division 3, represented by Harry Griffen, includes Lemon Grove, southern Spring Valley and southwestern La Mesa, with a population of 35,888 and an area of 5660 acres.

Division 4, represented by Bob Rundell, includes central La Mesa, Spring Valley, Casa de Oro, Calavo Gardens and Shadow Hills, with 33,151 people and 5930 acres.



NEW BOUNDARIES — New division boundaries for the Helix Irrigation District were approved by the board last week, in order to bring the divisions more closely aligned for population and growth. Lemon Grove and a portion of Spring Valley fall within division three, represented by Harry Griffen, while the remainder of Spring Valley falls within division four, represented by Bob Rundell.

No More Jail Anderson Says

Fred Anderson, who gained local fame by spending three days in jail after fighting city hall and losing, has vowed not to go back.

He also vowed not to tear down a carport, which was originally what caused the full-fledged battle.

Anderson, who went to jail several years ago, did so over a protest that he should have been able to allow the infamous carport to stand.

The problem arose when Anderson sought a permit for the carport, which required a variance, since it was to be built too close to his property line.

He failed to get the variance, but went ahead with the carport anyway. He said that the neighbor on the side where the carport was built helped him with the construction, although it was too close to his property line to please city hall. The carport apparently pleased both Anderson and the neighbor, so they didn't worry about city hall.

Anderson said that be battled all the way to the supreme court but lost and was last week again faced with a stint in jail or comply with the law.

Anderson refuses to tear down the structure but also prefers to remain out of jail and so his latest scheme is to narrow the structure by three feet.

The carport will then comply with the law, he said, but parking a car in it will be very difficult. Anderson has since moved to Lemon Grove, but still owns the property. If the new occupant of the house, which is located within the San Diego City limits, drives a small foreign car, everything will probably work out.

Anderson hopes to prove that the regulations regarding the incident are ridiculous. He said that it has probably cost the taxpayers between $7,000 and $10,000 to fight the carport in the courts. The carport cost him $187 to build, he said.

State Selects Several Local Math Programs

A mathematics task force of the State Department of Education has selected eight programs in San Diego County schools for a new directory of "exemplary" approaches to mathematics instruction.

The director is currently being distributed to school officials in California and throughout the country.

Only 69 of 240 programs recommended to the task force were included in the directory. The principal criterion used to evaluate the programs, according to task force members, was "evidence of success."

"We are pleased that so many programs in San Diego County were chosen," said Dr. M. Ted Dixon, county superintendent. "In some cases, many months of planning are required to convert creative ideas into effective methods of teaching. The teachers and others who have helped to develop these programs are to be congratulated for their success," Dixon said.

Three of the San Diego County projects involved more than one school. One of these is a computer-assisted instruction program established by the county department of education and operated at 12 schools in six different districts, including Kempton Street School in the La Mesa-Spring Valley District.

Another multi-school project is conducted by the La Mesa-Spring Valley District at Bancroft and La Mesa Elementary School.

The state task force, created in 1971-72, gave high priority to the identification of exemplary programs. County superintendents assisted the task force by polling school districts and visiting programs in operation at individual schools.

Planning Commission Ignores Staff, Plan in Chapman Rezone

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — The county planning commission on Friday ignored its staff, county policy and general plan to recommend a rezone to industrial for 27.4 acres east of Casa de Oro.

The location of the property of the applicant, Chapman Brothers/Sweetwater Park, is on the northeast corner of Sweetwater Spring blvd. and Jamacha blvd.

The application called for M-1 zoning, but the commission did not go quite that far. It went for (P)M.

This is a more restrictive zone, the county's neatest industrial zone, and the (P) means that a subdivision map must be filed before any building permits will be issued.

Present zoning is LC and the original request was for a special use permit, which, it was agreed would amount to a rezoning.

Deputy Planning Director Jack Lamb told the commission that an industrial zone would be in violation of the general plan that calls for low-density residential uses.

The policy violation consists of a large rezone in a community planning area where the rezone is not an extension of an existing use or zone, according to Lamb.

He said the result of the Valle de Oro community planning effort might well designate the property as industrial, but that action at this time would be premature.

The matter will go automatically to the Board of Supervisors.

Pot Plants Cost Valley Cook $200

SAN DIEGO (CNA)—David C. Espinoza, 20, a cook of 2202 Central, Spring Valley, was fined $200—$10 suspended, and placed on two years probation in Superior Court Monday after he pleaded guilty of possession of marijuana.

Sheriff's men, following a tip, confiscated marijuana being grown in the subject's backyard. Mrs. Espinoza referred to one plant, 18 inches tall, as "my husband's prize marijuana plant".

Espinoza was taken into custody but his wife was not due to pregnancy. After two days he was released on his own recognizance. The cultivation charge was dropped when he pleaded guilty of possession.

$250 Fine Handed Marijuana Farmer

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — A 20-year-old Lemon Grove delivery man was fined $250 and put on three years' probation Thursday in Superior Court for growing marijuana plants in his backyard.

Adrian Albert Hardesty, 20, of 3731 Harris st., Lemon Grove, was arrested on May 31 when sheriff's deputies found 24 marijuana plants behind his house at the Harris street address. He was permitted to plead guilty on June 25 to the lesser charge of possession of marijuana.

Two co-defendants, Anthony R. Leonard, 22, and Gregory Richard Omli, 23, of the same address, are to be sentenced July 26 in the El Cajon Municipal Court on the same possession charges.

Judge Douglas R. Woodworth, in sentencing Hardesty on Thursday adjudicated the offense a misdemeanor, although Hardesty had pleaded guilty to a felony charge.

Some Support Shown For Vista La Mesa Annex

The idea of annexation to La Mesa is apparently hoped for by at least some residents of the Vista La Mesa area as evidenced by a public meeting Thursday. The meeting, chaired by La Mesa Councilman Paul Jensen, was designed to answer questions about the proposed annexation.

The proposal would bring the area east of the San Diego city limits, to Spring st., north of Highway 94 into the city of La Mesa. The annexation would affect the approximately 4,000 residents of the area.

According to Councilman Jensen, the move would be to the advantage of the area. Specific advantages he sited were; improved fire protection with a truck from La Mesa being able to reach the furtherest point in Vista La Mesa in a maximum of 2.4 minutes, increased police protection by a constant patrol of a police ambulance and sedan, and recreational with the use of the new pool at Helix high school and the summer recreation program.

Other advantages lie in the area of public works Jensen said. Services such as street sweeping, street repairs, lighting, and emergency sewer repair will be available. Questions were raised about the City's policy on sidewalks, which were answered by the councilman. Sidewalks will not be required immediately, but lean agreements to put sidewalks in at some future time will be made with property owners making major improvements on their property. When 51% of a block has such agreements, the City can force the remaining residents to put sidewalks in.

Possibly the issue of greatest importance to the citizens present was taxes. The city of La Mesa last year had an assessed taxation of $1.48/$100 this year the figure dropped to $1.25, and for next year it will be 90 cents/$100. La Mesa is now under an ordinance that forbids a tax rate over $1.25/$100.

City Engineer Paul Fabares presented a comparative study of four houses in the Vista La Mesa area and four similar houses in La Mesa. For the tax rate area 85006 in VLM (a house with an assessed valuation of $7,000 and a owner's exemption of $750 the net assessed value is $6250. The tax rate being 12.869 the total County tax bill would be $804.31. Adding fees for the Lemon Grove sewer assessment, garbage collection, and homeowners fire insurance brings the total to $1039.11. A house with the same assessed valuation in La Mesa had a tax rate of 13.039 with the city tax bill being $814.94. Adding insurance and garbage collection the total is $947.94, a savings of $91.17.

Similar studies were made for areas 85030 — a savings of $44.22, area 85003 — a savings of $40.63, and area 85035 — a savings of $89.40. All figures were calculated by city of La Mesa officials.

Also brought up at the meeting was the Murray Hills development in VLM. When asked what La Mesa would do about the proposed condominium complex, Jensen replied that if the Council had jurisdiction, it would not go in as planned. This is because the City has more stringent regulations than the County. However, if the construction was annexed with a favorable zoning notice, there would not be much the city could do.

Discussion became rather heated at times when a few people opposed to the annexation argued over the total tax rate, the inability of VLM to get out of present service contracts, and fire insurance prices.

Murray Hill Project OK'd

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — The county planning commission on Friday pushed aside the objections of residents and a La Mesa councilman and approved a condominium project known as Murray Hill.

George Bailey was the councilman and he told the commission that it should not take the action because there is a movement in the entire area known as Vista La Mesa for annexation to La Mesa.

He gave no particulars, but said he feels the annexation has a good chance of succeeding. He said there are about 4,000 residents in the area between Highway 94 and University avenue.

Murray Hills Condominiums, he said, under the plan submitted to the county would have a density of dwelling units higher than would be allowed by the city.

Speaking in opposition in addition to Bailey were Paul Haider, John Ellis and Pat Keller. There had been more opposition at an earlier hearing which was continued to Friday.

Forms were circulated at the end of the meeting asking for the consent of the council to consider annexation. Although merely a formality, the forms will be reviewed and turned over to the planning commission who will present them to the council for approval. After the proposal is acted upon, it will be taken to the County for further approval. Once approved, petitions will be circulated which must be signed by 25% of the registered voters in the area to be annexed before an election can be held to decide the final qustion of annexation.

Guam Independence Celebrated in SD

The 29th annual liberation of Guam from the Japanese was celebrated last Saturday by the Sons and Daughters of Guam Club of San Diego. The club's president, Joe Untalac of 8903 Orville st., Lemon Grove hosted the event attended by many Guamanian dignitaries. Among them were the Governor of Guam Carlos Garcia Camacho, Paul Calvo and Adrian Sanchez.

The celebration was held at Tropic Gardens at Navy Field, and was attended by over 2,000 people from all over the United States. The crowning of the liberation queen Miss Pat Cepeda of El Cajon and the Royal Princess, Miss Kathy Garrido of San Diego, highlighted the evenings festivities. Traditional Guamian food and entertainment were provided for the evening.

Part of the proceeds from the celebration will go to the Guam Culture Center building fund. The Center will be designed to perpetuate and preserve the culture of the Guamian people, and may possibly be built in Chula Vista.

Learn Spanish The Easy Way

Hardison's Telespanish

By James Hardison

The letter "g" in Spanish has some interesting variations when compared to the letter "g" as used in English. The most common combination of "g" often occurs with the letter "a" as seen in "amiga" (friend) and "paga" (pays). In both cases they are sounded with a strong "a" as in the "gah" sound. Thus we pronounce them "ah-MEE-gah" and "PAH-gah."

When the letter "g" is followed by he letters "ue" in words like "guerra" (war) and "pague" (pay) we should hear a sound like "geh" as those words are pronounced "GEH R-rah" and "PAH-geh."

"Guitarra" is an example of a word with the letters "ui" following he latter "g." We pronounce this as "ghee-TAHR-rah" as the combination of letters "gui" are sounded "ghee."

"Gobierno" (government) and "domingo" (Sunday) contain examples of the combination of the letters "go" which are pronounced "goh." These two words are sounded respectively "goh-bee-EHR-roh" and "doh-MEEN-goh." The "gu" combination is pronounced "goo" as seen in the word "seguridad" (security) and sounded "seh-goo-roe-DAHD."

Words with "ge" and "gi" offer the largest variation between the Spanish and English pronunciation. "Ge" is pronounced "heh" and "gi" is pronounced "hee." Examples of "ge" are seen in the words "gente" (people) and "general" (general) and sounded respectively "HEHN-teh" and "heh-neh-RAHL." "Gigante" (giant) is an example of a "gi" combinttion which is pronounced "hee-GAHN-teh."

The combination of letters "je" are also pronounced "heh." This is demonstrated in the words "pasajero" (passenger) and "viaje" (trip). These words are sounded "pah-sah-HEH-roh" and "vee-AH-hah."

You may continue to enjoy working with some of the words that use "g" and combinations of "g" with other letters. Several of them occur in the phrases listed below. After reading the phrases, look at the phonetic guide for guidance in pronunciation or call 276-2762 to hear the automatic recording that will lead you in saying the same phrases.

IMPORTANT PHRASES:

Say "Cuanto paga usted?" (koo-AHN-toh pah-gah oo-STEHD) for "How much do you pay?"

Say "No es una guerra." (noh ehs OO-nah GEH R-rah) for "It is not a war."

Say "Tenemos un gobierno grande." (teh-neh mohs oon goh-bee-EHR-noh G R A H N-deh) for "We have a large government."

Say "Manana es domingo." (mahn-YAH-nah ehs doh-MEEN-goh) for "Tomorrow is Sunday."

Say "Es un gigante." (ehs oon hee-GAHN-teh) for "He is a giant."

Say "El es un pasajero." (ehl ehs oon pah-sah-HEH-roh) for "He is a passenger."

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

Last evening my husband spent almost an hour sweeping the road in front of our house. It was unbelievably filthy dirty and he could no longer stand it.

Over the past years since we have been in this area, I have tried to have our street swept more often than once or twice a year. I have phoned, written and spoken of it many times.

I am told there are not sufficient men to clean the streets. It doesn't seem right that the road cleaning has to be done by my husband if we want it to be clean. I don't know what further I can do. I've abandoned trying to have someone do it. They only become exasperated and angry when I mention it.

Dear Editor:

After viewing an episode of Streets of San Francisco" on teevee recently, a thought occurred by which taxpayers could be saved an enormous amount of money and time.

The sequence I was watching indicated that the Miranda Decision influences the due process system — that any confession made by a person without being notified of his rights is not admissible in court.

When I was in the military service of our country we were read specific portions of the Uniform Code of Military Justice at periodic intervals. Roll call was made at the time and the fact recorded in our Service Record Jacket. After that we could not plead ignorance of the law.

It seems to me that a similar method could be utilized for civilians. I propose that it be tied to one's driver's license. At the time a person gets his license, or renews it, his rights could be read to him and a notation could be made on his license. There would be a record of his knowledge of his rights in his possession as well as in Sacramento.

If every state participated in the program a nationwide net would be established at negligible cost.

This would save tremendous amounts of time and money involving officers and courts, and nobody's rights would be violated.

Fiddler on Roof Hit Production of Helix Workshop

by Sue Waldron

If you ask a friend if he would like to go to a play, he might say yes. But, if you happen to mention that the play is being put on by high school students, that same person will suddenly remember a previous engagement that can't be broken. This is the traditional reaction, that high school plays are reserved for family and whatever close friends can be hooked into coming.

However this tradition, along with many others fell last Saturday night at the Helix Summer Music Workshop's production of "Fiddler on the Roof". "Fiddler" is a musical, which in the traditionalist view is much worse than a regular play, because the kids actually sing! Again, tradition bites the dust. An outstanding cast headed by the superb performance of Dave Chandler in the lead role of Tevye, moved the audience several times into spontaneous outbursts of applause.

The story of "Fiddler on the Roof" centers around Tevye, a dairyman, his family and neighbors in the small village of Anatevka, Russia. The play tells of the traditions which sustained the Russian Jews at the turn of the century, how they stand up to the changing times and affect the lives of Tevye and his family. The "Fiddler on the Roof" symbolizes these traditions, and Tevye philosophizes that without tradition life would be as shakey as a fiddler on the roof. The play climaxes when the Jews are forced to leave their village.

Tevye played by Chandler, and Golde his wife played by Annette Winchell, are the parents of five daughters. They watch as their three oldest children break with tradition and find their own husbands. Tevye accepts this as a part of the changing times until Chava, played by Kathy Johnson marries a Russian gentile, played by David Jacobson. This is too much for Tevye, who declares that to him Chava is dead.

Before they are married, Chava, and her older sisters Tzeitel, played by Patrice DeGaetano, and Hodel, played by Darlene Campbell, sing "Matchmaker". Yenta, the matchmaker, played by T. J. Jester, is busy trying to do just what they are asking. This song, as do most of the numbers in the play comes across well.

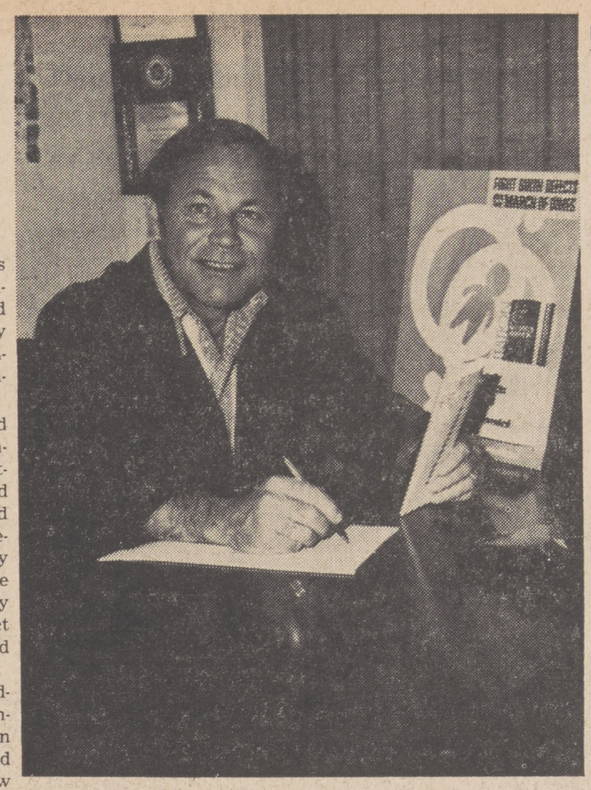
Tzeitel, although betrothed to the butcher, played by Miran Flores, is allowed to marry her true love Motel, played by Fred Blodgett. Hodel is taken with her teacher, a radical student from Kiev, played by Don Alford, but to marry him she must travel to Siberia, where he has been imprisoned.

The play is complimented by some fine technical accomplishments. Innovative lighting techniques were designed by Don Ayers, Chris Kay and John Kay. The original choreography was reproduced by Jerry MacCormack, and the costumes were designed by Peach Kay. The whole effect was directed by John Kay and produced by Phil Patton.

Undoubtedly the outstanding performance of the evening was turned in by John Chandler. His fine acting and singing patched up the few rough spots there were. His solo numbers such as "If I were a Rich Man", solliquies, and then with Golde singing "Do You Love Me" proved both his comedic and dramatic ability.

Although there were spots when members of the cast couldn't be heard both through their own lack of projection and at times an overzealous orchestra, all in all the play was a big success. Nowhere did the terms "high school" or "kids" apply, which is a tribute to everyone connected with the play.

The final run of the play starts tonight and will continue through Saturday. Tonight and Saturday night the other cast headed by Alan Weisman will take over the main roles, with David Chandler returning on tomorrow night. Tickets are available at the door of the Helix high auditorium for $1.50. Curtain time is 8 p.m.



CHAIRMAN — Hydroplane race driver Bill Muncey of the Mt. Helix area has been appointed campaign chairman for the March of Dimes fund-raising drive against birth defects. Muncey's interests are varied. They include being a member of the President's Advisory Conference on physical fitness, and official U.S. Navy recruiter and director of corporate affairs for the Atlas Van Lines.

Muncey Named Chairman Of March of Dimes Drive

The San Diego chapter of the March of Dimes has announced that Bill Muncey will serve as its campaign chairman for the annual fund-raising drive against birth defects diseases.

Muncey, a relative newcomer to this area but not to the needs of children with crippling defects, currently is on tour in the northwest battling the waters of the Columbia River and Lake Washington as a hydroplane racer.

The veteran pilot, who has won three world championships, is also a member of President Nixon's Advisory Conference on physical fitness and sports, an official U. S. Navy recruiter and director of corporate affairs for Atlas Van Lines.

"As a prominent speaker and occasional television commentator, the San Diego chapter felt that with Muncey it was obtaining a man best qualified in so many fields to aid us in our campaign," reported Wil Fischer, recently appointed chapter chairman.

"Muncey's appointment is in keeping with the National Foundation's program of choosing prominent sports figures. Reelected as national chairman is golfer Arnold Palmer."

On accepting his position, Muncey said he intended to take an active role in campaign activities during the winter months.

Muncey, who resides with his family in the Mt. Helix area, is the most successful driver in the history of unlimited hydroplane racing, having won more heats than any other in history and has broken more world records.

It was his interest in young people that turned Muncey toward the President's physical fitness and sports program, headed by former astronaut Jim Lovell. The same might be said of his consideration of the young who have been denied the physical strength to become athletes.

Near Capacity Crowd Sees Four Top Fights

When matchmaker-promoter Mickey Davies entered the ring Friday night to announce the card, he smilingly viewed a crowd of more than 3,200 fans and said "How great it is."

He was referring to the 100-less-than-capacity throng. But as it turned out, he was also describing the four bouts which followed.

He wa also describing the Aug. 3 card which will showcase the world's heavyweight champion, George Foreman.

Foreman will fight three two-round bouts. He will face Billy Ryan, 6'4", of Fresno who has a professional record of 8-0. Then Mike Weaver, a trong gym fighter of L.A., and finally Scrapiron Johnson, an old pro.

Davies said Foreman likes to work exhibitions to keep in shape. He usually works without a face mask.

Davies also said that prices would not be increased for the champ's appearance.

And the Friday card was exciting!

In the opener, a 10 round welterweight battle, Walter Charles of Los Angeles scored a TKO over Jorge Rodriguez of San Ysidro. In bringing his record to 15-3-1, Charles won every round but one, and gashed Rodriguez' brow with a right hook that was deep enough to cause ring doctor William Lundeen to halt the hostilities.

HEAIR WINS NO. 28

Cowboy Jimmy Heair of Los Angeles ran his string to 28-0 by outclassing Miguel Mayon (22-9-2) in a lightweighte battle that brought a shower of money into the ring from elated spectators. It went the full 10 rounds.

In a four round exihibition match — two rounds each with different opponents — twice world lightweight champion Mando Ramos showed much of the skill that won him the title. Having lost the title last year, Ramos stopped boxing until recently. He is now on the comeback trail. He fights Tury Pineda Aug. 9 in Los Angeles. Then he will try Heair, probably at the Coliseum. If he wins those two he may have a crack at the title again.

CAN BE CHAMP

Speaking of champions, Irish Art Hafey, a classy little blonde bull of a scrapper (5 ft. 2 inches, 126 pounds) is an odd-on favorite to wint the featherweight title before long. He completely dominated Jose Luis Rodriguez during the four rounds of the scheduled 10 round main go. He floored Rodriguez three times. The last one was the result of a jarring left hook which had Rodriguez out cold for three minutes.

Hafey's record stands now at 28-1-1; Rodriguez is 27-6-2. Hafey told reporters before the fight that he would go to his opponents body for the first few rounds to force his arms down. "Then I'll clobber him," he said. He followed his game plan.

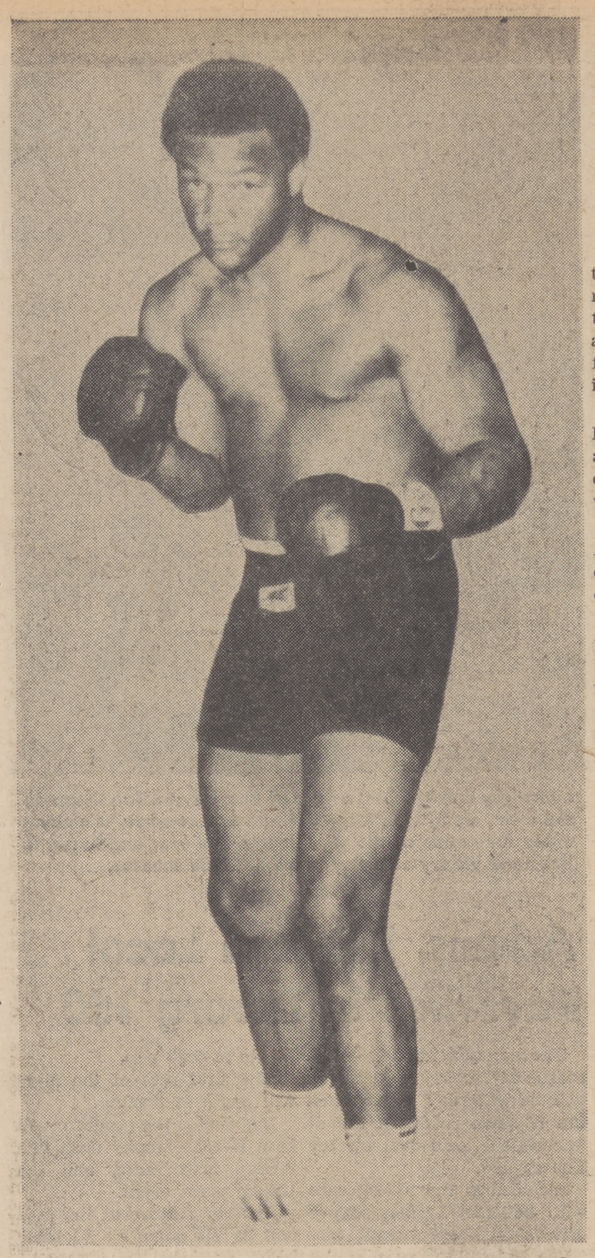
Ringside conversation regarded Mickey Davies who has become some sort of a champion himself what with filling the Coliseum with his bi-weekly fight cards. It was also noted in the press area that the audience is becoming attractively sprinkled with ladies.

MONTOYA BOOKED

Tuesday Davies announced that Heair had been booked on the main go Aug. 3 at the Coliseum. He will fight Lobito Montoya of San Jose, who boasts a 40-15-1 record. He was stopped once and that was the result of a face cut. He has fought Estaban De Jesus, the top lightweight contender. On May 2 he beat Miguel Mayon in five rounds. He is the former state lightweight champion and the only fighter to boast a female trainer. She is Karen Paradee.

The rest of the card has not been booked but state requirements are than 26 rounds of professional fighting must be booked. The six rounds Foreman exhibition does not count.

Attendance should be a record-breaker for Davies, too. Fans who want to see Foreman should reserve seats right away. The reservation number is 232-8362.



WORLD CHAMP — George Foreman, world heavyweight boxing champion, will show his style in San Diego next week at the bi-weekly card at the Coliseum. He will take on three opponents for two rounds each.

'SOX ACTION — The Lemon Grove Bobby Sox minor league all star tournament team won in the opening round of the tournament, as did Spring Valley and Jamacha Hills teams. The championship game was to be played Wednesday, with a major league tournament to start this weekend. The tourneys are at Lemon Grove Junior High: In photo, Spring Valley runner is safe at first base in a close play.

SV, LG, JH 'Sox Teams Get Victories

Spring Valley, Lemon Grove and Jamacha Hills opened the 1973 Bobby Sox Area Tournament with smashing victories to advance to the second round of the double elimination tournament at Lemon Grove Junior High.

The tourney opened Saturday, with the championship game to have been played Wednesday evening.

In the opening round, Spring Valley jumped all over Peninsula pitching to score a 21-4 victory in five innings. Included in the contest was a 12-run rally in the second inning.

Lemon Grove, host team and defending champion, had little trouble dealing with Valley Mesa, 17-7. In that one, Terry Nicholas belted a pair of doubles and three singles to pick up five rbi's, while Cathy O'Brien turned in a double and a triple to earn four rbi's. Susan Bierly helped get an early lead when she cleaned the bases with a triple in the second inning.

Jamacha Hills, with a well balanced attack, shunned Otay Mesa, 9-0, as Cheryl Forehand collected 17 strikeouts enroute to the shutout.

In the only other game of the weekend, Chula Vista beat South Bay, 12-4. Highlighting the game was the tournament's first out-of-the-park home run, hit by Yolanda Moreno for the winners.

Sky-Grove All-Stars District Two Champs

The Sky-Grove Pony League All-Stars invaded Emerald Hills last week to determine who would be District Two champions, and the Sky-Grove squad won it all the hard way.

The two-team tournament was a best of three games affair, and the favored Emerald Hills team opened with a victory to put the local team against the wall.

The first game was a fine pitchers' battle, with Ron Hunnicutt twirling for Emerald and Earl Ritchey on the hill for Sky-Grove. Since the game was played in El Cajon, Sky-Grove was home team for the first game.

Both pitchers turned in superior efforts. Ritchey struck out 15 batters, walked only one, and gave up just two hits. Hunnicutt fanned 16, walked one and gave up two hits.

Had it not been for an error in the third inning, the game may have gone on all night with nothing but gooseeggs on the scoreboard.

In the third, Hunnicutt was safe on the fatal error. Emerald then put back-to-back singles together to score the only run of the game.

In the second game, Sky-Grove came out swinging, as Earl Ritchey and Bob Tiumalu put together a pair of quick singles. Bruce Frank belted a solid single to drive in Ritchey. Tiumalu swiped third base, then two walks brought him home to make it 2-0 after half an inning.

In the second frame, a single and two walks loaded the bases, then a wild pitch and a passed ball made the score 4-0 in favor of Sky-Grove.

Sky-Grove pitcher John Young hit a batter in the third inning, and the mistake was a bad one. Two stolen bases and a wild pitch made the score 4-1.

In the fourth, Young had his troubles again. A walk and a single would have put two men on, but one of them was thrown out trying to make it to third. With a runner at second, Young was tapped for another single, making it 4-2 in favor of the Grove team.

Bob Tiumalu belted a solo homer in the next inning, then Young settled down to shutout the Emerald batters the rest of the way to give the Grovers a 5-2 victory.

In the third game, another pitchers' battle loomed as Earl Ritchey and Ron Hunnicutt again squared off. Neither was as effective as in the first game.

Emerald seized the lead in the top of the first on two errors and a single to take a 1-0 lead. A pair of walks and another single off Ritchey made it 2-0 in the second inning.

Two errors and a walk loaded the bases for Sky-Grove in the bottom of the inning, when Chris Flores hammered a drive into deep right-centerfield to score a pair of runs. The throw to the plate was wild, and Mike Neagle, who had been on first base before the hit, legged it home to make the score read 3-2 in favor of Sky-Grove.

In the third inning, Robert Tiumalu walked and took third base on a double by Bruce Frank. Tiumalu scored later on an infield single by Steve Shell.

In the fifth inning, Emerald, trailing by two, picked up a run on two singles, a walk and a wild pitch. Sky-Grove clung to a 4-3 lead entering the seventh inning, but Emerald managed to tie it up on some brilliant baserunning by Mark Malone. After singling, Malone swiped second base. He then swiped third and scored when the throw to third sailed into left field.

Hunnicutt, still laboring on the mound for Emerald, held off Sky-Grove in the bottom of the seventh to send the game into extra innings.

Kenny Howe came in to pitch the top of the eighth for Sky-Grove and made it through with no problems. In the bottom of the frame,

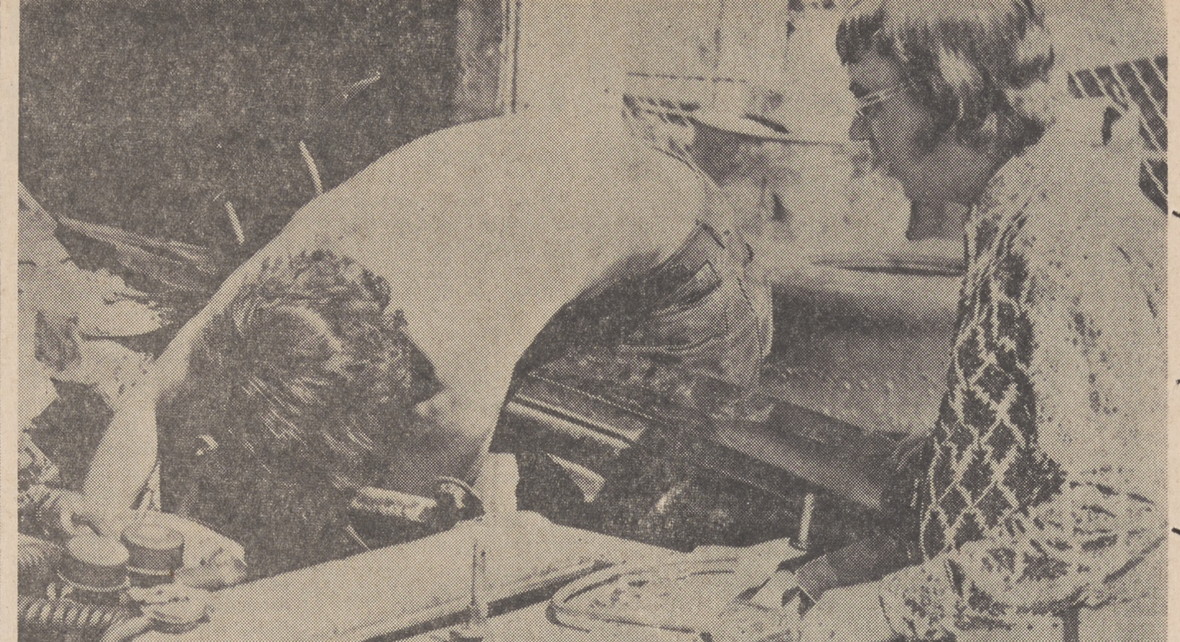
CARL ADAMS



SUSPENSION PROBLEMS — George Behlman, of Lemon Grove, works to correct suspension problems on his entry in the Tuborg 150. Behlman, who finished third in the point standings with the El Cajon Stock Car Racing Association last year, is a rookie with NASCAR this year, running a car owned by Jim Thomas, owner of Thomas and Son Disposal. Behlman, along with Richard White of Escondido, is making a bid for rookie of the year honors this year and hopes to line up a victory Saturday to enhance his chances.

SD Swimmer Sets Mark

Carol Starke, 34-year old San Diego long-distance swimmer, broke the world record on the Dardanelles, a 4-mile round trip swim. Her time was 1 hour 18 seconds, breaking the former record set by Florence Chadwick by 27 minutes 50 seconds.

Ms. Starke, who placed second last week in the Capri-Naples 18-mile international competition, plans to swim the Bosporus this week in an attempt to break Ms. Chadwick's record on that strait. The record is 1 hour 14 minutes 7 seconds for the 1½ mile round-trip swim.

Hockey Games Scheduled for East County

There'll be five weeks of hockey in the east county starting Saturday.

Some of San Diego's favorite professionals—as well as star amateurs—will face off each of the Saturdays at 5:30 p.m.

Scheduled to play are Tom Trevelyan, Gulls winger; Bob McKinstry, first San Diagan to turn pro; Al Nicholson, 17-year veteran of pro hockey and the Gulls; Sandy Fitzpatrick, center, former Gull, and Dale Pennock, big defenseman who played in the U.S. Hockey League last year.

Other amateur stars and college players will take the ice this weeek when they meet the L.A. Pro-Am Kings.

Admission is $1.25 for adults; 75 cents for kids under 12. The House of Ice is at Highway 8 and Lake Murray blvd.

REBUILDING — Carl Adams, of Lemon Grove, one of the top drivers on the Western NASCAR circuit, works diligently to get his engine rebuilt for the Tuborg 150, the first NASCAR race of the season at Cajon Speedway. Adams was rookie of the year with NASCAR last year and will be after victory Saturday night in his '71 Ford. Adams ranks ninth in the NASCAR point standings.

Adams, Behlman Local Favorites in Tuborg 150

The biggest attraction of the season at the Cajon Speedway will be Saturday night when the Western NASCAR circuit invades the local oval for the Tuborg 150.

Included in the 150-lap race will be the Lemon Grove drivers in Carl Adams, last year's NASCAR rookie of the year and George Behlman, a contender for this year's top rookie honors.

Adams, in ninth place in NASCAR point standings, will be at least the local favorite in his '71 Ford, as he raced for many years at the Cajon track before joining NASCAR.

Behlman, who finished third in the El Cajon Stock Car Racing Association point standings, will also have a good following among the fans as he pilots the Jim Thomas entry.

Ray Elder and Jack McCoy, the top two drivers on the circuit so far this year, will also be entered, so it'll be the local knowledge of the track against the experienced NASCAR drivers when qualifying starts at 6:30 p.m.

The first race of the night will begin at 8 p.m.

Included in the program will be a five-lap trophy dash, two ten-lap heat races, and the 150-lap main event.

Another feature of the race will be pit stops by all cars, which will use the infield of the paved, banked oval for tire changes and refueling.

Over $6,500 in cash awards will be presented, with $975 posted for the winner of the main event.

The race will give a much-needed rest for the local stock car drivers after last week's crash fest.

In last week's action, John Dineen, of El Cajon, regained his lead in the point standings by finishing second in the main event, while Pat McIntyre, who recently seized the lead from Dineen, blew an engine and did not complete the 30-lap feature race.

McIntyre, of Spring Valley, blew his engine on the eleventh lap, spun and caught fire and collided with four other cars. McIntyre was uninjured and will be back next week, but one other driver was sent to the hospital with a shoulder injury.

Lemon Grove driver Jim Hitt, third in the point standings, missed his chance to become the first four-time main event winner of the season due to mechanical troubles.

Hitt looked sharp in the early going, working his way through the pack to take over the lead on the fifth lap after passing early leader Wes Osborn.

Transmission troubles eliminated Hitt later in the race, as Osborn regained the lead and hung on to win.

Dineen, meanwhile was working his way through the pack and keeping away from collisions until late in the race, when he challenged Osborn for the lead. Osborn inched him at the checkered flag, however, to collect his first victory of the year.

New Ticket Policy For Charger Games

Under a new Charger ticket policy, general admission seats as well as reserved seats can be purchased in advance of the week of the game at the Stadium box office at Gate E. General admission seats are priced at $3 for adults and $1.50 for children under 16.

Tickets now are available for the four Charger home pre-season games—New York Giants, Aug. 4; St. Louis Cardinals, Aug. 11; Philadelphia Eagles, Aug. 25; Minnesota Vikings, Sept. 8. All are Saturday nights.

Chargers To Go Public Saturday

With the pre-season kickoff against the New York Giants less than two weeks away, Coach Harland Svare will send the 1973 San Diego Chargers into another full-scale scrimmage Saturday. A "preview" scrimmage was held last Saturday.

Jobs and positions will be at stake in the 2 o'clock confrontation at U.C. Irvine Track Stadium. A benefit for the UCI athletic scholarship fund, admission is $2 for adults and $1 for students and children. Tickets will be available at the gate.

Special features Saturday will include introduction of the entire squad by Coach Svare and Charger announcer Ralph Lawler and entertainment by the champion Edison High School "Chargers" Drill Team, which will tour Russia in the fall.

Chargers '73 Look Promising In Season's First Scrimmage

by Max Goodwin

IRVINE — There's a sharp difference between this camp and previous ones on the campus of U.C.

You can feel it as well as see it.

In the team's first scrimmage Saturday some of the play was scintillating. And all hands played as though each meant business.

There was team owner Gene Klein standing just off the offensive backs as the scrimmage progressed. He appeared less harried than at the close of last season.

And Harlan Svare, looking fit and relaxed. Coaches Snelker, Gregg and Wood showed a strong rapport with the players — an indication that the players are putting it on the line. It is also an indication that this year's team, barring injuries will be more exciting and fare better.

There was Johnny Unitas upon whose arm the fate of the Chargers rests. And Wayne Clark, the perenniel QB in waiting. And Tony Adams, the Utah State flinger, and Dan Fouts, the Chargers third draft choice who will wait for his broken collarbone to heal before he can prove he matches his high draft call.

KICKERS, THROWERS OFF

Neither the throwers nor the kickers looked good Saturday. Historically, they don't in early scrimmages. Unitas, Adams and Clark looked no better or worse throwing than Gunter Enz, Bill McClard or Dennis Partee looked kicking.

One of the smallest men on the team, free agent Ron Holliday, a 5-9, 160 pound wide receiver from Pittsburg impressed some of the visiting press with his speed and agility. So did Clancy Oliver, a cornerman from S.D. State with a mid-season form interception. But Gary Garrison, Pettis Norman, Chuck Dicus, Jerry LeVias, Dave Williams and John Mackey were impressive in scrimmage.

At the daily press conference following the afternoon activity Svare exhibited none of the testiness he showed during the Duane Thomas periods. Svare said that throwers and kickers have the problem of seeing players as "blurs" during first scrimmage. He noted that Pettis Norman was nearing mid-season form. Norman was clobbered twice and beefed with the officials on a play. "Pettis is back," Svare said.

HARDY CUT

75 players were on the field for the scrimmage and some will be cut. Bob Thomas, Cid Edwards and Mike Garrett didn't play Saturday. Kevin Hardy, former all-American, was cut Monday.

"Fun stats" were issued on the Saturday game. Quarterbacks: (Attempts-completed-yards) Clark: 11-6-62; Adams 11-2-42, Unitas 6-3-27.

Pass receivers: (no.-yards) L. White, 3-32; A. Reese, 2-18; T. Williams, 2-13; P. Norman, 1-12; O. Dragon, 1-9, and R. Holliday, 1-11.

Rushing: (times carried-yards) A. Reese, 10-53; T. Williams, 8-37; L. White, 7-23; O. Dragon, 7-20, and J. Taylor, 7-13.

Interception: C. Oliver, 36 yards.

Blocked field goals: H. Phillips, 2 and M. Pompa, 1.

Field Goals: McClard 8-1; Enz, 5-3.

Charger Backers members will attend a scrimmage Saturday at Irvine.

REMOVAL — Demolition of a long-standing eyesore on Lester in Lemon Grove began this week under a joint venture of Don Minnick, former Lemon Grove builder, and Stora Harris, of La Mesa. The project calls for the construction of a new 3-unit office building with a 20-car parking lot. Minnick, who lived in Lemon Grove for 13 years before recently moving to Lakeside, said that the building, which will include 1800 square feet of office space, will be in Spanish decor. Minnick was vice-president of the Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce.

For Teen-Agers

Pre-Wedding Counseling Is New County Program

A divorce rate six times the national average is faced by teen-agers getting married in San Diego County, according to the Rev. David F. Ellisor, chaplain of Juvenile Hall.

To help curb these rising statistics, all prospective brides and grooms in San Diego County under 18 years of age are now required to have pre-marital counseling before acquiring a marriage license, Rev. Ellisor said. The ruling by Juvenile Court Judge Richard L. Vaughn, in accordane with California Civil Code, became effective June 18.

Operated by the San Diego County Probation Department, in conjunction with the Juvenile Court, the educational program necessitates that couples desiring marriage make long range plans to complete the entire process of receiving the license, he said.

Prospective couples are to choose their own counselor from the field of recognized professional in behavorial science — clergymen, marriage counselors, psychologists, psychiatrists, or clinical social workers. In cases where the couple has no resource of their own, Rev. Ellisor said, a counselor will be recommended at no cost.

The final responsibility for granting permission to marry rests with the Juvenile Court Judge. The decision is based upon the counselors' evaluation and interviews at the Juvenile Probation Department.

The new pre-marital education program asks young people to take a more realistic look at their decision to marry, he said.

"We want young couples to evaluate their relationship and their channels of communication, and to understand the economic, personal, and social responsibilities that marriage brings," Ellisor said. "By this, we hope to lower the increased rate of divorce among teenagers in San Diego County."

Sen. Cranston Measure Would Aid Veterans

Twenty-two California colleges and universities that have special programs to help veterans through school could get an inducement averaging $325 per veteran to educate more GIs thanks to an amendment that passed the Senate under the sponsorship of Senator Alan Cranston (D., Calif.), Cranston said.

Cranston, a member of the Veterans Affairs Subcommittee on Readjustment, Education and Employment and of the Labor Subcommittee on Education said he introduced the amendment to the Veterans-Cost-of-Instruction program to help more veterans "who need further education or training to compete realistically in the job market".

He pointed out that during the past two years the unemployment rate for Vietnam-era veterans has been as high as 15 percent. For those who don't have high school diplomas it has been as high as 30 percent, Cranston said.

According to an American Assn. of Junior Colleges study in 1972, of 4,110,000 Vietnam veterans who either dropped out of high school or never went beyond high school, only 550,000 — just 13.4 percent — had gone back to school under the GI bill.

Council Fire Slated

A Friday night Council Fire will highlight a week for camping for 76 girls at Camp Wolahi, the San Diego County Council of Camp Fire Girls' resident facility. The girls left Sunday and will return Saturday.

The Council Fire will feature singing, skits and presentation of cards and certificates for special achievements.

Deborah Noble, of Spring Valley, is attending.

Eagle Scout's Aid Helps Deaf-Blind Students to See-Hear

Thanks to a 16 year old Eagle Scout, a classroom for deaf-blind students at Home of Guiding Hands will have some fancy new equipment—equipment that can be used to teach a young retarded boy to respond to the sound of his own voice.

Roger Proffer, a student at Montgomery High School and a member of Eagle Scout Troop No. 136, presented a check for $200 to the Home this week, because he "wanted to help these kids have a better way of life."

He earned the money in a garage sale and decided to use it for a Scouting Service Project rather than for personal reasons, but, he said, "I had no idea what the Home could use the money for."

George Siordia will use it for something called a Whisper Light-a lightbulb which is wired to a microphone so that a child's speech sounds make the bulb light up; and a transducer — an electronic device which, when wired to a microphone, enables a child to feel with his whole body the vibrations of his speech sounds.

Siordia teaches a class for four deaf-blind, retarded youngsters at the Home. Modeled after a pilot program in the La Mesa-Spring Valley School District, the class was provided by a federal grant and is designed to prepare the students for future entry into a public school multihandicapped program. Three of the youngsters are permanent residents of Guiding Hands; a fourth is a student at Angels Unaware day care center during the regular school year.

Historic First Sunday This Weekend at Del Mar

Canadian champion Kennedy Road, who notched the most important triumph of his career when he carried Bill Shoemaker to a popular victory in the Hollywood Gold Cup, will make his Del Mar debut Sunday when he heads the field in the $25,000-added San Diego Handicap.

The mile and one-sixteenth affair, feature of the first Sunday program in Del Mar history, also promises to attract such other speedsters as Briartic, a familiar rival of Kennedy Road from Canada, and New Prospect, winner of the Oceanside Handicap a year ago at the seaside course.

Kennedy Road, one of the many aces in the powerhouse stable of trainer Charlie Whittingham, provided Shoemaker with one of his most satisfying successes when he won the $150,000 Hollywood Gold Cup. Deposed as the rider of Cougar II for the mile and one-quarter test, Shoemaker turned in an inspired performance as he urged Kennedy Road to a nose victory over Quack after a fierce stretch battle. Cougar II, the high-weight tnd favorite, was a well-beaten third under Laffit Pincay.

Earlier this year, Kennedy Road had been beaten a nose by Cougar II in the $170,000 Santa Anita Handicap. The son of Victoria Park, owned by Mrs. A. W. Stollery, captured the San Antonio Stakes last winter and as a three-year-old won the prestigious Queen's Plate at Woodbine in 1971. Fast approaching the $500,000 mark in career earnings, Kennedy Road has been a stakes-winner in each of his four years of campaigning.

Highlight of Saturday's Del Mar card will be the $20,000-added Oceanside Handicap, a six-furlong dash for three-year-olds being pointed for the $40,000-added Del Mar Derby.

Welfare Job Placements Up

Job placements for welfare recipients have increased 108 percent since last year, Health and Welfare Secretary Earl Brian announced last week.

Brian said the Work Incentive Program, which uses financial incentives and manpower services to help recipients of Aid to Families with Dependent Children, found jobs for 19,445 enrollees in the 11-month period July 1972 through May 1973. In the same period of the previous fiscal year, he said, 9,400 were placed in jobs.

"This is a 108 percent increase. It indicates clearly that the state's new emphasis on jobs for welfare recipients is paying off," Brian said.

Administrators Get Own Salary Schedule

Grossmont Union High School District administrators got a new salary schedule after action by the district's Board of Trustees.

Under terms of the new contract, administrators are no longer tied to the teacher salary schedule. In the past, principals and other administrators were paid an amount calculated by longevity and position, but it was based on the teacher pay schedule for the same longevity plus a percentage.

Under the new contract, administrators have a new salary schedule entirely apart from that of the teachers. When administrators reach the top of the scale, they get annual increments.

The move was made to bring principals' pay in line with that of principals in other areas throughout the state.

Dept. Lists Tips For Consumers

Many consumers encounter dissatisfaction with defective products, fraudulent business transactions, sub-standard services, etc. The Department of Consumer Affairs urges consumers to complain and offers tips on how to do so effectively:

File all warranties, guarantees and receipts, take complaints directly to the manufacturer or business firm, bring the guarantee, warranty or purchase receipt when complaining in person, and ask to speak to the highest person in authority who can handle the complaint if not satisfied with response from the initial person approached.

When complaining by mail give the brand name, model number, size, color and other identifying information for the product and also keep a copy of all correspondence received and sent. Inform the retailer or manufacturer, if a satisfactory adjustment has not been made that the complaint will be taken to a local Better Business Bureau, community conumer protection agency or California Department of Consumer Affairs.
